From sales to install I had a unique project for a recording studio and they did a great job. They installed a mini split and vent system. They actually replaced a bad mini split job I did a year ago with another big name competitor and the quality difference is obvious. Every aspect was professional from the text message and tracking of where they were in route to my house in the morning to being flexible on changing plans on the fly due to a unique project. I highly recommend them as their quality is outstanding.

Great install in a short period of time which was a relief since my system was replaced in January! No mess left behind and everything was clean and tidy when they left and yes the new furnace is working perfect. I spill recommend Nexgen Aire to everyone considering a new heating system.

If there were more than 5 stars I would give it! Matt was very knowledgeable and professional. With a 2 year old and a wife who is 8 months pregnant, time was of the essence. Matts prompt response time and execution made for a great experience. The communication throughout was transparent. I could not have chosen a better company.

Was good experience overall from Matt to jana and the Installers Sean and Mihail and others. Quality work and answered all my questions took 4 days verses the 5 they quoted so. Well done NextGen Aire. Amesbury. Thank you!

Joe was great! On time, professional, and knowledgeable. Joe communicated exactly what he was doing and best course of action for going forward. Their office kept me up to date with texts letting me know when my tech would arrive, a photo of the tech, and a bio. I was highly impressed with the company's overall professionalism and competence. Highly recommended!

I cannot recommend the NextGen team enough. We hired them to remove our old steam radiators and mini splits and install a brand new ducted heating a cooling system, and they were amazing every step of the way. The whole crew is extremely professional and personable, and the level of service was above and beyond (they even took our trash out for us on trash day!). We love the work they did and would definitely hire them again!

I had needed my furnace repaired for some time. I came across next gen aire and they called me to set up an appointment. Even though there were call outs at the company they still were able to get to my house and diagnose the issue. Keeping informed of what needed to be done and what could wait. At the end of the repair it was $1000. Less than what was quoted originally. Extremely happy with the work done and the time frame for which it was done.
